

Invited Lecture on ‘How to Be an Effective Communicator’

held on 11 March 2019

A Report

The Department of Humanities and Social Sciences organised an Invited Lecture on ‘How to be an Effective Communicator’ on 11 March 2019 at MalaviyaSabhagar , PrabhaBhavan .It was addressed by Dr. Sangeeta Sharma, Professor, BITS , Pilani. Dr. Sharma started her talk by defining communication and explained the importance of communication in our daily lives. She also stressed on the aspect that good communication is the key for success not only in personal and social field but also in professional and business concerns.

Through interactive activities, she invigorated the students to be excellent communicators. The icing on the cake was team activity where each group was supposed to come up with their strengths and weaknesses. The jam packed auditorium witnessed moments of serious discussion, interaction, excitement and boisterous humour.

The Invited Lecture was coordinated by Prof. Nupur Tandon, Head, Dept. of Humanities and Social Sciences and Dr.Niraja Saraswat, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Humanities and Social Sciences.